My Career Journey and Future Plans

I am currently a Bachelor of Business Administration student in my second semester at Sonargaon University, with a strong passion for technology and development. Alongside my studies, I am working as a front-end developer and have recently begun learning the MERN stack (MongoDB, Express.js, React, and Node.js). My goal is to build a comprehensive skill set as a full-stack developer, allowing me to pursue various career opportunities. To further this goal, I am actively seeking internships or entry-level roles to gain hands-on experience, and I am also starting freelancing projects on Fiverr to work with real clients and expand my portfolio.

Over the next seven years, I aim to master the MERN stack and secure a stable, fulfilling job. If I feel confident and have the resources, I may also consider starting my own company, turning my skills and vision into a successful venture. I believe that gaining practical experience, along with entrepreneurial growth, will open doors to numerous possibilities in the tech field.

By the end of 2026, I aspire to study abroad in Germany to further my education in technology or business, which would deepen my skills and broaden my career options. If Germany isn’t an option, I am also considering studying in the Netherlands or Belgium, aiming for either the Fall or Spring 2025 intake. Building a life abroad is a major goal, including the possibility of purchasing my own home to create a stable environment.

Marriage is also something I may consider once I feel financially stable and mature enough to take on family responsibilities. With dedication, I am committed to achieving these goals and building a fulfilling future.
