Library

A library is an integral part of every educational institution. A library only for the students and professors of the university in question is called a university library. The knowledge contained in the prescribed course must be supplemented and supplemented by the study of books and magazines provided by a library.

Our university library on the first floor of the Arts Building is very rich. It maintains around fifteen thousand titles covering the arts, science, and commerce disciplines. In addition, there are a large number of internationally renowned newspapers and magazines. They are compiled to keep students and teachers informed about the latest research findings in various fields of knowledge. The first floor has two large reading rooms. An imperceptible silence prevails, conducive to study. If there is no class, students and teachers come to study in the library. The library is well managed by an experienced librarian and his support staff. It is open from eight am to 8 pm. on all working days. We are proud of our university library.

Superstition

Superstition is a queer idea. It paperwork a certain situation in a human mind. The unreasonable worry of various factors and rigid faith in witchcraft, ghosts, and numerous evil forces are referred to as superstition. It dominates and paralyzes the energy of reasoning and rationality of a man. No rational explanation is feasible for it.

Superstition comes mainly out of a lack of awareness. Orthodoxy and conservatism are responsible for it. The shooting of an owl, the sound of a cricket, the groaning of dogs, the untimely sneezing of à cow or a person, and so on. Make superstitious people panicky. The outcomes of superstition are terrible. A superstitious man or woman suffers physically and mentally without any cause. He can not prosper in his lifestyle. In fact, superstition is dangerous to human civilization. But that is an age of science. Science has taught man to assume rationally. So, guys have to give up superstitions and cherish affordable thoughts in this age of cutting-edge civilization.

Terrorism

It is difficult to define terrorism. It is visible that in many cases, terrorists combat for their prison proper. On the other hand, their right may appear illegal to those against whom the terrorists run their movements.

Other people think that terrorism is an introduction to revolution. We noticed the enlargement of terrorism after the Second World War. It is stated that it originated from the Third World or the Middle East. If we look returned, it's miles visible that it came to light at the cease of the nineteenth century. The main purpose of terrorists is to terrify, to create panic. Criminals dedicate crimes due to their ethical financial ruin. But terrorists try and justify their activities from a moral factor of view. And this is in which the primary distinction lies between the terrorists and criminals. The world is now status at a volcano of terrorism. Today, people need to live in peace. They do not expect any dangerous activities. They want to make the world a higher area for future generations who will lead their lives in a peaceful way.

Drug Addiction

Drug dependency was a strong choice for a drug that the addict can't withstand. Narcotics like opium, morphine, heroin, marijuana, hashish, LSD, and cocaine are commonly used by addicts. When an addict takes them he gets excited and loses control over himself. Addiction to drugs has, in recent times, emerge as one of the finest troubles in the sector. This curse has unfolded in our u. S.

Additionally. Young people who preserve awful organizations may be addicted. Being frustrated in existence a few humans take to the drug which offers them euphoria.

But the euphoria may be very transient. It is followed by using disappointment. It tells upon the fitness of the addict severely. And the addict meets with an untimely death. It also creates social problems. Narcotics are very expensive. So the addicted persons take to stealing, mugging, and other misdeeds in order to procure money. Two sorts of measures can be taken to take away this curse. One is preventive, and the other is healing. Strong steps should be taken to prevent the production and trafficking of drugs. Sufficient clinics ought to be mounted to remedy drug addiction. But the everlasting answer is to remove frustration, poverty, and inequality in society which causes drug addiction.

Corruption

The use of power for personal interest or gains is termed as corruption. It is a common problem that leads to various other serious issues. It occurs at various levels in our country. From the general public to the political leaders to the big businessmen – everyone is contributing to this problem and making it bigger by the day.

There may hardly be a person in our country who may not have adopted corrupt means to further his interest. Even if it is a smallest act of corrupt such as bribing the traffic police for breaking traffic rule it is still wrong and is a stepping stone for bigger acts of corruption. People, in our country, often crib about political leaders misusing their power for personal gain not realizing that they themselves indulge in small corrupt practices to further their interest.

Each individual must act responsibly and stop such acts to contribute their bit towards eliminating corruption. The government must also keep a check on such illicit activities to overcome this problem.
